ESCE Council Members
Dan Larhammar (President)
Horst-Werner Korf (Vice-President)
Elisabeth Eppler (Secretary)
Olivia Carnevali
Magdalena Chadzinska
Billy K.C. Chow
Charlotte Cornil
Eric Roubos
Robert M. Dores

Elisabeth Pellegrini (U. Rennes)

National Advisory Board
François Brion (INERIS)
Pascal Coumailleau (U. Rennes 1)
Barbara Demeinex (MNHN/CNRS)
Sylvie Dutour (MNHN/CNRS)
Jack Falcón (CNRS)
Yann Guiguen (INRA)
Jean-Jacques Lareyre (INRA)
Jean-Claude Le Mével (U. Brest)
Jean-Louis Nahon (CNRS)

Horst-Werner Korf  (Vice-President)
Elisabeth Eppler (Secretary)
Robert M. Dores

International Advisory Board
Robert J Denver
Fabian Canosa
Rodolfo Cardenas
Ching-Fong Chang
John Michael Conlon
Luis Renato de Franca
Bert De Groef
Wei Ge
Yann Guiguen
Hamid Habibi
Keerikkatil Pally Toy
Moses Inbaraj
Makito Kobayashi

Elisabeth Eppler (Secretary)

How to get there?
Rennes is located in the heart of Brittany. You can get there by:
Plane: Rennes is connected to Paris and several European cities
Train: Fast Trains (TGV) will bring you to Rennes in 3 hours from Charles de Gaulle airport and in 2 hours from Paris Montparnasse
Car: Rennes is well communicated by excellent freeways

Contact: olivier.kah@univ-rennes1.fr
http://cece2014.wordpress.com

Bretagne France
The programme « Comparative Endocrinology serving the future »

The scientific programme will focus on how Comparative Endocrinology can provide useful answers to societal issues notably by contributing at:

✓ Understanding and protecting biodiversity
✓ Fighting endocrine disruption
✓ Discovering new biologically-active molecules
✓ Providing resources for human consumption
✓ Deciphering the mechanisms underlying evolution

The 27th Congress of the European Comparative Endocrinologists will offer:

✓ 5 plenary lectures by:
  - Dick Nässel (Sweden)
  - Silvia Zanuy (Spain)
  - Bon-chu Chung (Taiwan)
  - Luiz Renato de França (Brazil)
  - Charles Tyler (UK)

✓ 18 Symposia
✓ 2 wine and cheese poster sessions
✓ Prizes for young investigators
✓ A rich social programme including a welcome reception, ½ day tours and a super banquet in the heart of the city (all this at low cost)